

Summary: 1390+ Letters on Climate Change from Sierra Club Constituents

Note: Each of the signatories below submitted this letter on his or her own.

March 2014

To the Chesapeake Bay Program Principals Staff Committee and Director Nick DiPasquale:

I urge you to include climate change in the new Chesapeake Bay Agreement.

The Chesapeake Bay is particularly sensitive to the impacts from climate change. Water temperatures have increased by 2 degrees Fahrenheit since the 1960s. In the last century, Bay water levels have risen by more than a foot. About a dozen islands have vanished. Others have been evacuated. Thousands of acres of shoreline marshes have been eroded away. The Chesapeake Bay is already degraded by development and agriculture, but the growing effects of climate change are making Chesapeake Bay restoration even more daunting.

Considering the increasing role of climate impacts in the health of the Chesapeake Bay, we need to include the term climate change in the new Chesapeake Bay Agreement. Climate impacts are considerably more complex than is implied by the terms "sea level rise, rising temperatures, and increased precipitation". Climate change encompasses a wide range of stressors that will increasingly determine the fate of our aquatic eco-systems. Protecting the Chesapeake Bay from climate impacts for the long term will be a huge challenge for natural resource policy makers and conservation managers alike. In order to meet this challenge, we need to be prepared. We need: extensive adaptation research; implementation of adaptation strategies; and dedicated leadership at the Chesapeake Bay Program to integrate climate concerns into the agency's work. These goals need to be explicitly articulated in the Chesapeake Bay Agreement.

I appreciate your leadership in ensuring that the term climate change gets incorporated into the new Chesapeake Bay Agreement. Even more important, we are counting on you to include explicit climate change-related goals in the new Agreement. Without goals, there is no accountability and no measure of progress, which we cannot afford when it comes to the challenge of protecting our waterways from climate impacts.

Sincerely,
