

Communicating High Flows to the Chesapeake: A Group Effort

- July:
 - Peter Tango summarizes info for STAR about high flows to the Bay,
 - Contributions from agencies monitoring the Bay and watershed
- August:
 - Bay Journal writes story on potential effects of high summer flows to the Bay
 - USGS does feature on near record July Flows to the Bay
- Sept 7: USGS does feature on record August Flows to the Bay
 - USGS Office of Communications does FB post and emails to news outlets
 - Baltimore Sun calls for more info and runs small story
- Sept 14: Peter and Scott summarize info in advance of Florence
 - Put feature on USGS Chesapeake Website
 - Provide to CBP leadership and CBP Communications Office
 - Work with Joan on Blog for CBP Website
- Sept 17: Peter and Scott update information on Florence, and include potential effects on the Bay
 - Post as feature on USGS Chesapeake Website
 - Provides to media outcomes
 - CBP Communications Office (Joan) starts work on new blog and reaches out to multiple scientists
- Week of Sept 17
 - Baltimore Sun releases story about high flows and effects of Florence
 - Chesapeake Bay Foundation resends story to their membership
- Week of Sept 24
 - Joan completes blog and posts on CBP Website
 - Bay Journal plans to write story for their Oct issue